Sgt. Roy Jennings

ARMY RECRUITER IN APPOMATTOX

Staff Sergeant Ray Jennings, Army Recruiter, is now working in Appomatox County each Thursday. He comes to his present post from an assignment at Fort Monmouth, N. J. where he served as a platoon sergeant. He is a Vietnam Veteran and holder of the Bronze Star medal. Sgt. Jennings is based at the Army Recruiting Station, Lynchburg.

the T-Mites team.

In 1968 Tommy was one of the Campbell County League team champions. In 1969 the M-Mites did it again and won the Campbell County League championship. Tommy's played football each year since then, both full back and tackle positions. During the '71 season he did most of the punting and kicking work for the Appomattox T-Rebels.

The Appomatox County Jaycees, who annually sponsor a Punt-Pass-Kick contest have many times passed the highest trophy award to Tommy. He won first place in the Ford Motor Co. Jaycee Punt-Pass-Kick county competition when he was nine and again when he was ten. That year (1969) he was also Zone champion in Roanoke and competed for state honors in Richmond.

In 1970 Tommy was again first place winner in the county PP&K competition and won again in 1971. Last year, he was Zone runner-up and was presented a certificate.

In baseball, too, Tommy has come off well with trophies and awards. At age nine he was first place winner in the Baseball Grand Slam sponsored by Persona Corp, and locally, by Jaycees. He was one of the Appomattox Pee Wee League (minor league) All-Star champions at Keysville in 1968.

His talents as third baseman and short stop showed up again in 1969 when Tommy was an All-Star and again in 1971 when the All-Stars were runner-up in competition at Brookneal in district competition.

Tommy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bryant of Appomattox.

Which sport is Tommy going to specialize in. He's not sure, but right now, it looks as if basketball has a slight edge.

carry out reforestation projects for next year. "We will soon begin site preparation needed so that we may plant the areas next spring," said Taylor. "The state legislature has appropriated approximately $500,000 to support this year's reforestation of timberlands program."

Senior 4-H Share-The-Fun Set For April 7

The Senior Age (14-19) 4-H Share-the-Fun Contest will be held Friday, April 7, at Appomattox Intermediate School beginning at 8:00 p.m.

A group of Senior 4-H'ers are planning the Share-the-Fun program. Janet Hix and Hope Paulette are co-chairmen of the decoration committee. Donna Paulette is chairman of the refreshment committee, and Dennis Chenault is working on arrangements for the program. Questions may be directed to any of these persons.

PAULA FRANKLIN HONORED

Miss Rita Inge, and her Mother, Mrs. Claiborne Inge, were hostesses for a bon-voyage dinner Tuesday night, entertaining at their home, in honor of Miss Paula Franklin, who will leave on Thursday for Rome and Florence, Italy. Those present, in addition to the honoree and hostess were Miss Kathy Mitchell, Miss Emily Williams, Miss JoAnne Elder and Miss Teresa Smith.

Miss Franklin was presented with a bon-voyage gift by the hostesses.

The Pastor Speaks

I have just returned from my fourth conducted tour of the Holy Land. Mrs. Bowman and I plan a Spring Tour and an Autumn Tour each year. Our tour party was composed of twenty - six persons. Our next tour will be in September.

To go to the Holy Land makes the Bible come alive. Last Sunday we conducted a worship service on a boat in the middle of the Sea of Galilee. In this sacred spot one could imagine Jesus as He taught from a fisherman's boat. In Jericho we could see the Jordon River; to our right was the Mountain of Temptation: to our left was Mount Nebo, on whose top Moses could see the Promised Land; in Jericho we could visualize a small man sitting in a sycamore tree.

Every inch of soil suggests some Biblical story. These stories come alive as one treads the ground on which they took place. In Bethlehem one sees the Field of the Shepherds and can almost hear the Angelic Chorus. Here, too, Ruth gleaned in the field of Boaz. The Bible becomes alive.

In Capernaum we see the ruins of the old synagogue and recall how Matthew the tax collector was called to greater service. Here Peter became a fisher of men. Here other disciples left their nets to follow Jesus. In Capernaum one stands on sacred ground.

The Bible has a new meaning when one visits the sites he has read about all his life. The leading of tours to the Holy Land and pointing out the places of Biblical interest is one of the richest experiences of my life.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE HAPPY BEGINNING

Lesson for April 2, 1972

Background Scripture: I Corinthians 15

Devotional Reading: I Corinthians 15:51-58

When we were children, many of the books we read ended with something like: "And they lived happily ever after." Stories always had a "happy ending." As we grew older, however, we found that these stories were somewhat deceptive, for some people do not live "happily ever after," and some stories do not have "happy endings."

Perhaps it is because of this sobering disillusionment about "happy endings" that some people have trouble with the resurrection faith of Christianity. On Easter Sunday, probably a hundred and eight million Americans will be in churches celebrating the resurrection of Jesus Christ, yet studies have shown us that many of these same people either do not believe in a life after death or at least have grave doubts about it — and the pun is intended!

To Think About Death

It is said that the late publisher tycoon William Randolph Hearst would not allow anyone in his presence to mention the word "death" in any way. Though not so extreme in their reaction, there are many who similarly refuse to think about that question until it is thrust upon them. As many have discovered, an emergency is a poor time to think through one's convictions about death and its aftermath.

So Easter is a time — though hardly the only time — when every Christian ought to re-evaluate his faith and be honest with himself: "Do I really believe in the Easter faith or is it only a 'happy ending' tacked on to an otherwise tragic story?"

Paul himself felt that it was necessary to honestly face this question: ". . . if Christ was not raised, then our gospel is null and void, and so is your faith; and we turn out to be lying witnesses for God . . . If it is for this life only that Christ has given us hope, we are of all men most to be pitied." (15:14-19).

He Appeared Also To Me

Paul gives a lot of thought and reflection to the resurrection of Christ. For one thing, he believes because of the compelling testimony of others who experienced the risen Lord. He cites a whole list of those who were eyewitnesses to the first resurrection appearances of Christ.

Yet Paul had an even greater reason to believe: "Last of all, as to one untimely born, he appeared also to me" (15:8).

Paul says, "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labor is not in vain." (15:58). The resurrection, as you see, is not an ending at all, it is much more, a "happy beginning!"
